

Slew of Halloween events slated

IBEW jumps in with inaugural trunk-or-treat

Alyx Arnett

Oct 25, 2017

Allison Exmeyer and daughter Enzie pose with the Hocus Pocus witches at last year's Kids' Community Halloween Party.

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 873 is jumping onto the Halloween scene this year.

On Saturday, Oct. 28, members of the local are putting on an inaugural trunk-or-treat event at the union hall, located at 2739 N. 50. E. in Kokomo, from 4 to 6 p.m.

“We’re just wanting to get involved with the community, and we were trying to think outside the box for ways to get the community involved,” said business agent Zach Walker.

There will be decorated trunks filled with candy for the kids, hot dogs, drinks, popcorn, and a bounce house.

“We’re looking forward to meeting some new people and being around the kids and having a good time,” he said.

In addition to the IBEW’s event, dozens of other Halloween events are slated for Friday through All Hallows’ Eve.